

ARKANSAS HONEY PRODUCERS

DISCLAIMER: We do not promote, endorse or guarantee the quality of honey or any listed honey producer. This list is to provide a service for the residents of Arkansas.

Local beekeepers have raw honey, which has not been heated or processed. Do not give honey to an infant less than 12 months old.

What is considered local honey? Local honey is a term used for honey produced in your immediate area. However, any honey produced can be considered local honey, due to the fact that the vast majority of flowering plants that honey bees forage are found throughout the state. Since all the plants bloom around the same time, honey from any region in the state will have the same benefits.
